Martin was quoted as saying Oswald's erratic behavior made it possible for his widow to accept shortly after the assassination the view that her husband had killed Kennedy.

"That man doesn't have any right to quote my daughter-in-law," Mrs. Oswald said. "A statement such as this should come from her attorney or from the Secret Service."

The younger Mrs. Oswald has been in seclusion, under protection, since the assassination.

The mother-in-law, who moved back to her small apartment on the East Side, said Marina has been in seclusion with the federal officers too long.

"She is brooding and thinking about things," Mrs. Oswald said. "She doesn't know ways, and I can't believe would say something like which will hurt her and family."

Mrs. Oswald, who has denied her son's guilt, said she left Marina Thanksgiving Day, both thought Lee was guilty.
